

Modules

Current Debates in Psychology (optional)

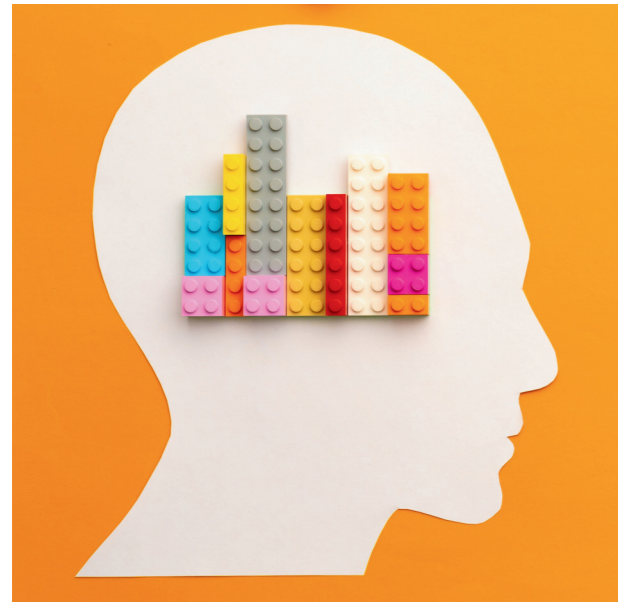

Through this module students will gain critical and up to date knowledge of a range of current debates and contemporary issues with Psychology, such as questions around the nature of the Mind, Consciousness, Nature and Nurture, normality versus "abnormality" and Neurodiversity. Students will be introduced to the most current debates critical research evidence.

Advanced Social and Cognitive Neuroscience (optional)

Through this module students will explore a range of current research areas within Social Neuroscience, such as Decision making and neuroscience, Forensic social neuroscience, Relationships, attachment, bonding and neuroscience, and Clinical social neuroscience. Students will be introduced to a range of perspectives and research methods in Social Neuroscience.

Current Topics in Developmental Psychology (optional)

Through this module students will be introduced to the key perspectives and methods of Developmental Psychology at an advanced level, to and acquire the ability to critique key perspectives, methods, techniques and up-to-date research in Developmental Psychology. It also provides an opportunity for students to develop a critical appreciation of how research in Developmental Psychology is used to inform strategies and interventions throughout the lifespan (i.e. childhood, adolescence, adulthood and with the elderly).

This programme is ideal for psychology graduates who wish to enhance their career prospects through postgraduate study.

The scientific study of Psychology enables individuals, companies and communities to thrive and cultivate the best within themselves, and thus improve their experiences of work, leisure time and relationships.

Graduates of the MSc in Psychology will have developed systematic and comprehensive subject knowledge in selected areas of Psychology. The advanced knowledge of conceptual frameworks and current issues in psychology, ethics and research methods that graduates possess has important applications in teaching and education, human resources, career coaching, leadership, business, and in various fields of mental health counselling.

why to choose this programme

Highly qualified, experienced and supportive instructors

Develop an advanced critical knowledge of selected contemporary methods, theories and issues in psychology

Programme flexibility with full or part-time studies. Classes take place on Friday evenings and on Saturdays

Select optional modules according to the field of psychology you wish to specialize in

Conduct research with the support of our specialized research supervisors and full time Psychology Technician, in a dedicated Psychology Research Laboratory

Evaluation without written exams through activities and tasks

“

Our MSc in Psychology offers you the opportunity to build on the knowledge and understanding you gained during your undergraduate studies, developing your intellectual and thinking skills to a very high standard and enhancing your independent research abilities. Our department has a well-respected, supportive and vibrant learning and research culture. We'll guide and encourage you to develop an advanced critical appreciation of contemporary methods, theories and issues in psychology, highlighting the links between your research and clinical practice.

During the dissertation module you will apply your research and analysis skills to a substantial piece of independent research, demonstrating your understanding of relevant ethical issues in context. The course is also designed to enhance your psychological practice, opening employment and career progression opportunities in a diverse range of careers, including psychology, psychotherapy, the helping or health professions, social work, education, private practice, human resources and leadership roles.

Apply Now!

Athens: 38 Amalias Ave., Syntagma
tel.: +30 210 32 25 961
Thessaloniki: 138 Egnatias & P.P. Germanou
tel.: +30 2310 88 98 79
info@nyc.gr, www.nyc.gr

NEW YORK COLLEGE
THE INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE OF GREECE
The LEADING College
of University Studies in Greece:
The ONLY Greek College with expertise in founding and operating Private Universities in Europe!

MSc in Psychology

Exploring Minds, Shaping Futures

NEW YORK COLLEGE
THE INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE OF GREECE

The master's programme MSc in Psychology of the University of Bolton is a one-year full-time programme which involves the comprehensive study of selected areas in psychology at an advanced level and the acquisition of advanced professional and research skills.

Topics covered include Advanced Cognitive and Social Neuroscience, Current topics in Developmental Psychology, Current Debates in Psychology and/or Positive Psychology. The programme also includes a thorough training in quantitative and qualitative research methods in Psychology.

Forging the future of PSYCHOLOGY

“Our expert team will encourage you to develop your intellectual and thinking skills to a very high academic standard. This course will also support the development of your personal and transferable skills required for a successful career as a practitioner psychologist and/or to continue your academic career with a doctorate. Some of our past graduates have remained with the University to pursue MPhil and PhD research. Others have used the skills they developed during the course in private practice as psychologists, psychotherapists, in Human Resources Departments and in educational settings. With the support of our highly skilled, supportive and experienced course team, you will flourish and maximise your potential!

-Programme Leader: Antonia Svensson, PhD
Head of Psychology Department
Associate Dean, New York College

Programme Duration

Programme flexibility with full or part-time studies

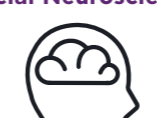

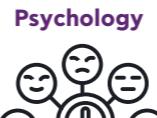

Classes take place on Friday evenings & on Saturdays

Full time
12 months courses including the preparation of the thesis under the supervision of a supervising professor

Part Time
24 months courses including the preparation of the thesis under the supervision of a supervising professor

GUARANTEES high level professionals IN PSYCHOLOGY

Programme Curriculum

-  Psychological and Social Research
-  Current Debates in Psychology
-  Advanced Cognitive and Social Neuroscience
-  Current Topics in Developmental Psychology
-  Foundations of Positive Psychology
-  Positive Psychology in Practice
-  Qualitative Inquiry
-  Quantitative Inquiry
-  Professional Project

University of Bolton Greater Manchester

IN THE 30 BEST UNIVERSITIES IN THE UK!
(Guardian 2024)

The state UNIVERSITY OF BOLTON is located in the Greater Manchester area of England with a history dating back to 1824. According to the Guardian (Best UK Universities 2024 – rankings), to UNIVERSITY OF BOLTON is ranked among the 30 best universities in the UK. Recently, the BBC highlighted the UNIVERSITY OF BOLTON as a model for UK Universities, regarding its operating standards for student safety from the Covid-19 pandemic and the UK Education Secretary Michelle Donelan, from the floor of the House of Commons, referred to the "amazing work the University is doing".

New York College has a franchise agreement under the Greek Ministry of Education legislation and the degree you will receive at the end of your studies is awarded by the University itself.

Greater Manchester's No.1 University for Student Satisfaction for the last 6 years

